HOW CAN WE HELP

With over 75 years of experience, Microlab has established an exceptional reputation and is well-respected in the industry. We have worked diligently to design and create solutions that provide maximum value to our customers. Alongside RF Industries, we serve as your one-stop shop for connectivity solutions in Distributed Antenna System (DAS) deployments. Our offerings include passive components, RF and fiber assemblies, adapters, connectors, kitting and integrated solutions, concealment enclosures, and much more.

We have a proven global track record with our passive DAS solutions, delivering fast and reliable wireless communications in some of the most iconic and challenging environments worldwide, including many large sports and entertainment venues in the U.S. We see ourselves as more than just a manufacturer; we strive to be your comprehensive solution provider. Instead of merely selling products, we offer our clients extensive experience and expertise in design audits and system planning, along with a deep understanding of the latest industry trends. We are ready to support you in your next DAS deployment.

With over 75 years of experience, we have established a proven track record on a global scale

Our value-added services simplify deployments and mitigate risks to ensure every deployment is successful

A complete Bill of Materials simplifies ordering and logistics, saving time, effort, and avoiding costly mistakes

Our engineers continually work to provide smaller, lighter, and higher-performing products for newly released bands and solutions optimized for the next generation of wireless networks
